

Media Release

Gleeds appoints David Spray as director of cost management in Nottingham

Local property and construction consultancy, Gleeds, is pleased to announce the recent appointment of David Spray as a director within the business' cost management team in Nottingham.

David re-joins Gleeds from Faithful & Gould, having originally started with the company as a graduate. He returns with over 24 years' experience in the industry, during which he has worked alongside firms such as AstraZeneca, Tesco, Boots and Wilson Bowden. He has also been actively involved in managing new build and refurbishment projects at both Loughborough University and Nottingham Trent University.

In his new position as director, David will be assisting with the management and development of the rapidly expanding Nottingham cost management team. He will be primarily responsible for creating new client opportunities, as well as maintaining strong existing relationships across Gleeds' offering within the education, public and retail sectors throughout the East Midlands.

Commenting on his appointment, David said: "I am delighted to be re-joining Gleeds and look forward to building on the company's reputation in the East Midlands and further afield. I am confident in my ability to grow the business and add significant value to the cost management team. This is a new and exciting challenge but one that I can't wait to embrace".

Anthony Cork, Director at Gleeds, added: "David is a great addition to our cost management team. Having worked on a variety of large scale projects across the East Midlands, he has a fantastic understanding of the needs of our clients in this market. Also, having worked with us previously he understands Gleeds, our vision, values and culture, and I have no doubt that he will be invaluable in driving things forward here".

Notes for editors